From the Principal

Dear Friends,

What an interesting and multifaceted term we have experienced. Others have written here about the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on our programs and how we will diminish its negative consequences. Our preferred communication on this matter is by email and there will be periodic updates.

Meanwhile, our College community was saddened by the recent death of Ps Hal Oxley, the founder of the College and Life Ministry Church. Ps Hal passed away last Sunday week aged 103. He slipped away from this life in his sleep to a wonderful new life in the presence of God.

Ps Hal did not want any public memorial service, and so we held a brief reflection at Senior School Assembly on the extraordinary life of this extraordinary man, who was awarded the OBE for military service, and an Honorary Doctorate of Divinity from the International University in Delaware, USA.

Ps Hal was a recognised leader in the Australian Army, where he saw service in the Middle East and in the South Pacific regions, and held a posting to the position of Colonel while working with General MacArthur in the South Pacific at the end of World War II. He was a leader in business as a director of a public company overseeing eight factories in the manufacturing industry. He was a leader in Christian ministry, having established LMC and Oxley Christian College, a Bible College, the establishment of some 22 churches and a global network of Christian ministers. Having held these substantial positions of leadership, Ps Hal eventually wrote a book based on his experiences, Functional Leadership, which is available on Amazon.

For all the accolades we could offer, Ps Hal would have none of it. He was a humble man who served God in his time. At his last talk with students at Oxley Christian College many years ago, Ps Hal concluded his speech with these words:

"Great it is to dream a dream,
when you stand in youth, by life's stream.

But a greater thing, is to see life through,
and say at the end – my dream came true."

We thank God for the life of this courageous and skilful man, and we recognise the gift he was to all who knew him. May our College that bears his name continue to be a place that honours his legacy and enjoys the grace and providence of God.

As we move into the last week of term and into the Easter season, I commend our meditations on the gospel message, that God so loved the cosmos that He gave His only Son, so that whoever trusts in Him may have eternal life. He did not come to judge the world but to save it. One can only imagine His anguish in the garden of Gethsemane where those closest to Him could not stay awake and see what He was seeing. In these times, to stay awake with God and to the people who need Him the most, means standing with Him and seeing others as He sees them through the eyes of love and grace. In the inner stillness where this meditation leads us, the Spirit secretly anoints the soul and heals our deepest wounds.

Warm regards,
Douglas Peck

Fighting Fear

It is tricky knowing how to respond appropriately when someone says "don't panic". It is like waving a red rag to a bull. Our response might be: "Well I wasn't panicking, until you told me not too! What should I not be panicking about right now?" We have seen it in the media, in shopping centres, on social media and in the community. When a crisis, such as coronavirus, descends upon us there is a wide range of reactions.

I have seen and heard it all this last week. From students, bless their hearts, purposely giving one another high fives so they can speed up a school shutdown and go on early holiday, to staff sharing toilet paper rolls with one another because they are out, and to hearing that some in the United States think Australians have resorted to eating koalas because of the virus! I've also heard that in nine months time we will have a new baby boom and by 2033 the new generation will be known as the Quaranteens! It is good to keep a good sense of humour about it all, otherwise I can imagine we could all let the weight of things drag us down.

The coronavirus, of course, is a serious matter and I praise God for strong leadership in our country and for those in our society seeking to do the right thing. In recent weeks, around the water cooler, terms such as flattening the curve have become a regular expression, while we do what we can as a community, to protect those most vulnerable, the elderly, the sick and those with pre-existing conditions. Whether closing down meetings, events, sports codes and the like is the right move, we may never know, but uniting behind a common enemy, such as we see today, would not have been seen before in my lifetime.

The greater enemy we fight right now, however, is not named coronavirus or COVID-19. It is named Fear. So the question is, how do I fight fear? I have felt it briefly at times myself this week and fought it off. I have sensed it in my children and in the community.

I discovered the answer as I reached out to a neighbour on Sunday afternoon. She became emotional as I gave her my mobile number and encouraged her to call me if she needed to talk or if I could run an errand for her at any time. She said "Matt, I'm going to call my friend in Sydney and tell her that her prayer was answered through you." The answer was love.

1 John 4:18 says, There is no fear in love. But perfect love drives out fear. In these difficult times, we all need a listening ear and to know we each care. And ultimately, that God's love for us brings an indescribable peace.

2 Timothy 1:7 encourages us further; For God has not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

And Matthew 6:27 says, Can any one of you by worrying add a single hour to your life?

So how do we defeat fear? Have hope, spread love, be of sound mind, try not to worry, speak truth, help a neighbour and share your toilet paper.

In the last decade, Christians have copped a great deal of criticism and been called all sorts of names. Yet it is my hope that in times like these, that by way of our actions, what it means to be Christian will genuinely be on display. Help those in need, comfort those who are anxious, provide food, employment, shelter to those in need. Run errands for those who can't for themselves. Speak truth into the hype, sense into the confusion and declare peace into the storm.

Practical things you can do to help children are:

1. Provide certainty in uncertain times, with facts.
2. Practice good hygiene.
3. Be careful with what news media your children are exposed to. Try to watch, listen or read it with them, so you are there for any questions they may have.
4. Keep a sense of humour and know humour can be a very effective coping mechanism.
5. Talk about your feelings – it can help you work through them.
6. Be polite, thankful and kind.
7. Keep living your life. Help your child to focus on the now and what they are doing today. These things are in their control – work hard at school, train for basketball... Continue their routine and enjoy the moments.
8. Work together – this is not a time to be selfish, but to work together and support one another.

May you draw upon God's love and peace in this time.

Senior School

2020 is not likely to be a year quickly forgotten. Bushfires, dust storms, muddy rain, early closure of swimming sports, athletics cancellation, and now COVID-19, the start of this year has been unprecedented.

Over the weekend we saw eerie spectacles of sporting events without crowds due to the crowd limit recommendation of 500. Prime Minister Morrison also discussed the advantages of continuing with school and the potential risks of overreacting.

In line with this, the Executive team will continue to evaluate each event on the Oxley schedule, including camps, excursions, incursions, and the like. Consideration will be given not only to whether an event can proceed but also whether the event can be modified to substantially achieve the educational outcomes, given limitations of our current situation.

We realise cancellations including City Cite, Year 7 and 8 Camps, Leadership Conference and excursions are significant and decisions are not taken lightly. However, we will continue to prayerfully and rationally review each event and respond in a manner that we believe best protects the interests and health of our families.

Shifting our thinking, as a society, from how do I avoid catching it to how do I avoid spreading it is valuable. Measures commonly used for mitigating influenza are equally relevant for coronavirus and have been relayed to students, including correct hand washing procedures, avoiding unnecessary physical contact and remaining at home if unwell, to recover and to protect others. This is consistent with Prime Minister Morrison's statement on 'social distancing measures' and we know that this will also be reinforced at home.

Many questions have ensued about steps the College will take in regard to potential closure. While we are currently remaining open for normal classes, it is important to acknowledge this is an evolving scenario. Planning is well underway for the remote delivery of your child's education should that become necessary.

Potential online delivery will never be the same standard as our high quality face to face model, but we believe we can provide a viable curriculum in spite of external factors. The availability of SEQTA as a Learning Management System together with the Surface Pro as the basis of our Digital Technology Platform leave us well placed to move to an online model. For subjects with a large practical component, this may be very challenging.

We have recently seen great examples of mateship, putting others first and trust, together with a unity, which includes our government, which has been quite extraordinary. These qualities, together with our faith in a good God, will continue to carry us through whatever the future may hold for us. The book of Isaiah talks about a particularly tough time in the history of Israel but is laden with verses full of trust, faith and hope.

Isaiah 41:10

*So do not fear, for I am with you;
do not be dismayed, for I am your God.
I will strengthen you and help you;
I will uphold you with my righteous right hand.*

There is never a dull moment in the life of a school! Whilst maintaining a sense of routine and calm in this unique time, staff are proactive in providing to students factual and age-appropriate information about health and hygiene, teaching children positive preventive measures to minimise potential anxiety around COVID-19.

Staff are actively caring for and educating the students in their class. Students are finding joy in learning and being connected to their peers in somewhat different ways than before. What a delight it is to see life go on in our beautiful environment.

We are celebrating a wonderful term of learning in all areas of the curriculum. Despite the disruptive start to the year, we witness strong connections to school, peers and teachers, coupled with an active appreciation of God's blessings. This is worth acknowledging! We know that a positive learning experience paves the way to future success and progress.

Parents and students are reminded that during the first week only of Term 2, students may continue wearing their summer uniform if weather permits. The student uniform standards on pages 12 and 13 of the Student Diary provide clear guidelines. Please check the hemline of winter skirts, which must be between 5cm and 10cm below the bottom of the knee cap when the student is standing with head straight. We appreciate your support to comply with our Student Uniform Policy and Standards.

We take this opportunity to also remind parents about the guidelines for boys' haircuts. The guidelines on page 13 of the Student Diary state that: Hair must be trimmed so that it is kept off the eyebrows, face, ears and shirt collar and should not be cut closer than level 3. Please ensure you communicate these specific details to your hairdresser!

School photos will be taken on Tuesday 21 April. Information about the ordering process has been sent home this week. Please ensure students are at school on time on the morning so that they do not miss out on having their class and individual photo taken.

Families will be looking forward to a pause from the usual routine to enjoy precious family time during the term break. Wondering how to engage in some family fun these holidays, as well as reduce screen time? Why not try some of these fun and relaxing activities:

- Create a prayer journal and pray for family and friends.
- Listen to music.
- Play board games or complete a 1000-piece jigsaw.
- Visit a local playground and enjoy the fresh air.
- Take a picnic to the beach or the bush.
- Teach your child to construct something from recycled materials.
- Plant herbs or vegetables in the garden.
- Build an inside fort or cubby house.
- Bake and give a treat to a neighbour or friend.
- Write a letter to a family member.
- Perform simple kitchen science experiments using ingredients in the home.

Thank you to our students, staff and parents for a wonderful Term 1. We bless you to be attentive to God's presence and sacrifice as you reflect upon the true meaning of Easter. May you be filled with hope in and love for our Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in Me will live, even though they die; and whoever lives by believing in Me will never die. Do you believe this? John 11:25-26 (NIV)

What Did You Do at School Today?

Prep

Wow! We have had an incredible few weeks in Prep. One of our favourite learning experiences was our visit to the Enviro Barn. As a year level, we excitedly explored the pond, gardens and vegetable patches. We loved spending time with our friends from the other Prep classes and learning about the environment. We are now looking forward to sharing our experience with others through illustrations and words.

Year 1

The students have been exploring their identity and recording their understanding of themselves using a mind map, highlighting important facets of their lives. They have discovered many patterns in our school environment, finding patterns everywhere! Investigating shape, number, letter and colour patterns is fun. We created a snake, giving it a patterned body of our choice, showing that we understand repeating patterns.

Year 2

We love spending time with our Buddies. The Buddy program aims to create stronger bonds and interactions between year levels. This year, Year 2 is paired with Year 6. We are enjoying getting to know our Buddies through fun and interactive activities. This week we had our first Buddy Chapel for the year. Ollie and Polly also made a special visit to Chapel!

Year 3

We have been enjoying reading fiction and non-fiction books and expanding our knowledge of a range of topics. We have activated our background knowledge and made connections to help us understand the meaning of the texts read. It's been fun exploring 2D shapes and learning how to describe their properties. Is a circle a regular or an irregular shape? Can you work it out? Ask any Year 3 student!

Year 4

Did you know that writers use special techniques to convey their opinion in a powerful way? When writing persuasive texts, we are not only stating our opinion, but supporting it using facts, examples and reasons. We have explored different persuasive techniques, such as using an endorsement, phoney statistic, or an expert opinion to convince our reader. We now recognise the techniques advertisers use to lure us and are too wise to be tempted by these tricks.

Year 5

What an amazing fortnight it has been. It was wonderful to step back in time and play the role of children of the 1850s when in Sovereign Hill. Learning how they lived and how tough life was gave us a deeper appreciation for all we have. Camp highlights included watching confectionery being made, exploring the diggings, panning for gold and participating in the School's Program. Turn to pages 5 and 6 for great photos!

Year 6

In History, we are enjoying learning about the Australian Government and the history of voting and completing pretend votes to understand how elections are run. It is interesting to learn about the change in voting laws over time and how the process is becoming fairer for all. In Maths, we have learnt about patterns in numbers and shapes. Make sure you ask us what the differences are between triangular and square numbers and what they can look like as a picture!

The health, safety and wellbeing of our college community is our first priority. Due to the developing situation with COVID-19, School Banking has been temporarily paused from 20 March 2020 until the start of Term 2. Please don't bring your deposit book to school. We will notify you when school banking will recommence.

EISM Division 3 Swimming Carnival

It was a great outcome for Oxley at this year's EISM Division 3 Swimming Carnival that took place on Thursday 12 March at Aquanation in Ringwood. Oxley won all four trophies on offer, including overall winners! The trophies included best boys team, best girls team, most improved school and overall winner of the carnival.

Our Swimming Captains for 2020, James and Erin with the trophies Oxley won at this year's EISM Division 3 Swimming Carnival

Our greatest competition at the event came from Mount Scopus, but by winning the Girls U/16, U/15, U/14, Boys Open, U/6 and U/14, Oxley made it impossible for Mount Scopus to catch us. Our swimmers did a great job competing at the carnival. Other schools were Rudolf Steiner, Alphington, King David and Nunawading, in a well organised event.

Congratulations to all our swimmers for this outstanding result. We have students who are now in the next level of Championships. However, the EISM Swimming Championships that were to take place on Monday 23 March have been cancelled by the EISM due to the COVID-19 virus. Students and parents will be notified during Term 2, if they are able to reschedule the event.

Music

As we head toward the end of Term 1, we acknowledge the hard work and dedication of our music students both in private lessons and in our ensemble rehearsals. Students have started the year particularly well and, as always, there is much joy and camaraderie in the BPAC. What a pleasure it is to work with these students.

We held our annual Senior Ensemble Workshop on Saturday 14 March. A lot was achieved in preparation for upcoming ensemble performances. A workshop such as this is equivalent to three weeks of regular rehearsals, and therefore assists us greatly during Term 1, when students are involved in other events.

We are currently preparing Term 2 timetables and they will be sent to students in the last week of Term 1. A reminder that at least six weeks' notice, prior to the end of term, must be given if any student wishes to withdraw from lessons.

If students have any questions about our performing arts, they are welcome to see Mrs Peacock in the BPAC.

Performing Arts & Events Administrator

Year 9 City Cite

On Monday morning, after only four days of the City Cite program, I had the tough task of announcing to our Year 9s, "Today will be our last day at City Cite".

Many students have reflected on the fact that City Cite is spoken of by so many as one of the best things in all of Senior School life at Oxley, and how they feel so upset, frustrated, sad, disappointed and even angry. The opportunities that City Cite offers our Year 9s are unlike any other program. So I empathise with their feelings of loss, and I know from experience that their feelings are genuine and valid.

The time our Year 9s spend in the city typically gives them exposure to the 'big real world' and helps them put into perspective events of our own day-to-day lives. In a way, this experience of terminating the City Cite program has also given our students this opportunity, when we consider how other people are also being affected in significant and tragic ways. Our feelings of the loss of such an important time in our secondary schooling life are put into perspective as we empathise, in some form, with the loss others are also feeling.

So whilst on one hand we continue to hold onto our very real emotions and feelings, on the other hand we can to begin to bounce back, recognise this as an opportunity to practice resilience and choose to find the positives that are hidden within this unexpected turn of events.

I want to thank all the Oxley staff and leadership for their support, concern and care for our Year 9s. Especially those who have spent time either in the city, or this week in the classroom, assisting with the completion of the projects in a revised format. A display of photos taken during our short time can be found on page 10.

Senior School Maths Club

The After School Maths Club is a mathematical support group which aims to aid and support senior students (Year 7-12) of all ability. The group aims to provide extra help to students willing to put the time in and who want to see their results improve. The sessions are run weekly on Wednesday afternoons from 3.30pm to 4.30pm in Room S1, by friendly and welcoming mathematics teachers. So, if you need mathematical support of any kind, this group will provide any necessary assistance.
